

Exercise 1

The Roadmap of Statistical Learning

Formally defining the statistical estimation problem consists of three major steps:

1

2

3

Researchers observe a survival time on every subject and ask, “what’s the probability that someone lives longer than 5 years?” Express this estimand using the notation introduced in lecture.

Define the estimator and the sampling distribution of the estimator.